

Happy Father's Day!

I know it's hard to see me like this -
Your child, your baby. So fragile, so small.
I know it goes against your nature not to be able to take care of me, protect me...
But Daddy, you are!

Just by being there, sitting next to me,
By watching me and holding my tiny finger.
And even when you can't hold my hand,
I know you'll always have my back.

I know your smell and the sound of your voice.
I feel your love and know you're proud of me.
And even when you can't be here,
your heart always is.

You've already given me the greatest gift -
You've believed in me.
And I can't wait to show the world
that I have a Daddy so great,
I couldn't wait to meet him!
